Token Group Further Formation

A national organization for token collectors is slowly forming despite an obstacle of a secretary in the hospital.

"Over 150 collectors have joined already" said Mrs. Lucy A. Kelly, McKeesport, Pennsylvania, who, as secretary of the Society of Medals, Tokens and Paper Money Collectors, said she was receiving an average of five letters of inquiry a day.

"Be sure to tell everyone I will be out in two days and will begin answering mail," telephoned Yearly dues for the Society of Medals, Tokens, and Paper Money Collectors will be $2 a year instead of the $1 as previously reported in Coin World. This is in addition to a $1 initiation fee.

An application blank for joining this new coin organization will be found on page 3 in this issue of Coin World.

Mrs. Kelly from the hospital December 13. She entered November 28 for a series of tests for a serious headache.

President of the organization, Dr. George Fuld, Baltimore, Maryland, told Coin World he had received several letters asking why obsolete paper money had been included in the collectors group.

"This is very much a part of it," said Dr. Fuld, explaining that "token money circulated without backing—at its intrinsic value. The same thing was true of paper money. What's the difference whether it was metal or paper?" "Legally," he went on, "tokens include advertising cards which also circulated." Medals are also included by the organization because of their close relationship to tokens.

A group of token enthusiasts in the West have formed the Southern California Exonumist Society to be affiliated with the national token organization.

The word "exonumist" is a coined word meaning token collector, according to Russel Rulau, secretary of the California club, who coined the word.

Members of the Southern California club, which is the first affiliate of the national society, are required to be members of both organizations.

Paul Hamm, San Diego, is president of the California society, board members are Ralph

1804 Dollar Sets Record

The 1804 dollar in the Fairbanks auction brought $28,000, one of the highest prices ever paid for a single coin. The coin was sold December 10, in New York City by Stack's to a Jacksonville, Florida, man.

Rarity Sells At $28,000

The 1804 silver dollar sold for $28,000 in the Fairbanks sale, December 10, setting a record for this coin and placing it as one of the most expensive single coins of the world.

The "king of American rarities" was knocked down to Sam Wilson, Jacksonville, Florida, after opening at $16,000 and advancing rapidly to $28,000 by $1,000 increases. Within fifteen seconds all but two bidders were eliminated and the coin was sold in twenty seconds.

Conducted by Stack's of New York City, the Fairbanks auction was held before a capacity crowd. Four hundred numismatists crowded into Steinway Concert Hall, with a seating capacity of 300, as the 678 lots were auctioned off.

"The sale did very well," said Harvey Stack, spokesman for the firm, who added, "It broke a few records."

Featuring a complete set of silver dollars, the sale included these outstanding items:

The unique 1866 "no motto" dollar brought $13,000.

The 1870-S dollar brought $9,000.

The 1884 trade dollar brought $6,500.

The 1794 dollar in very fine brought $3,700.

Known as the Davis-Hale specimen, the 1804 dollar had sold for $8,000 in April, 1954, by Stack's (Continued on page 3)

The Piqua, Ohio, Coin Club was slated to hold an auction at its meeting on Wednesday, December 14, 7:30 p.m., in the Piqua National Bank building.

A feature of the auction was that the first 10 lots were for "junior" members only, provided that at least six were present.

They were entitled to bid on the remainder of the 60 lots, also. Items in the auction ranged from large cents to silver dollars.

Mass. Dealer Commits Daring Daylight Holdup

A Worcester, Massachusetts, coin and stamp dealer robbed a bank Tuesday, December 13, of more than $5,000 in a daring daylight holdup which resulted in the death of a bank official.

Harold E. Brule, 46, owner of the Village Stamp Mart, 15 Greenwood street, Worcester, Massachusetts, was picked up by police just an hour after the holdup.

He was arrested and charged with robbing the Auburn Co-Operative Bank, Auburn, Massachusetts, and the December 9 holdup of the Household Finance Company, Worcester, Massachusetts.

George O. Keep, 69, of 111 Elmwood street, Auburn, an insurance agency official with offices next to the bank and the bank's assistant treasurer, died of a heart attack after he chased the holdup man from the bank premises at 44 Auburn street.

Keep gave chase after Brule had fired two warning shots inside the bank to keep would be pursuers at bay. One bullet struck a safe. Police were unable to trace the other.

Brule, of 5 Carlstead street, Worcester, was charged December 13 on counts of armed robbery and bank robbery after Worcester, Auburn, and state police said he admitted the holdup.

Bail was set at $50,000.

Charges against him in connection with the Finance company holdup, in which $273 was taken, include one count of armed robbery, and one of confining and putting in fear.

Club Plans Special Medal

The Central Iowa Coin Club, host in 1961 to the state convention of the Iowa Numismatic Association, plans to issue a special medal in connection with that convention, according to reports from the club's last meeting.

Nothing definite has been settled about the medal, but it is expected that a contest will be held to obtain a design. Further details will be announced.

New officers of the organization will take over at the next meeting, scheduled for Wednesday, January 3, at the Fisher Community Center, Marshalltown. They include:

John Holden, Garwin, president; Raymond Ryan, Chelsea, vice president; Gladys Hilleman, Marshalltown, secretary, and Don Paul, Gilman, treasurer.

Today's Chuckle

Quote from a newly-published club directory: "Call Carl Johnson, president, for information on Mrs. Lowell Miller, secretary."

Mint Makes 1/4 Billion Unc. Coins

Another quarter-billion uncirculated coins were produced during the month of November by the two U.S. Mints at Philadelphia and Denver according to the monthly announcement of domestic coinage issued by this branch of the federal government.

The Denver Mint concentrated its efforts on cents and nickels to the exclusion of all other coins in November while the Philadelphia Mint produced only quarters, dimes and cents. No half dollars were made in November by either mint.

A total of 205,900,000 cents were made by both mints with Denver producing 131,065,000 while Philadelphia's efforts were limited to 74,835,000. Thus far in 11 months, there have been 203,000,000 more cents produced than in the same period last year.

The production of nickels was concentrated at Denver Mint with 30,771,380 being produced to bring the 1960 total to 257,998,180 or over 90,000,000 more than in the 11 months of last year.

Police said Brule also admitted the Worcester holdup. He was arraigned on the charges in central district court, December 14.

Two women were alone in the bank at the time the holdup occurred, Miss Alma B. Johnson and Mrs. Eva Larson, both of Auburn.

Mrs. Larson said the holdup man entered the bank carrying a white canvas money bag at about 2:30 p.m. He put the bag down on the counter and demanded, "I want the money. I want it all—all the bills!"

He pointed the pistol squarely at her, Mrs. Larson recounted. She gave him all the money in her cash drawer. Miss Johnson told police she then was forced to empty bills from the safe.

Police said all money was believed recovered. Chief Edgar Campbell of Auburn said the exact amount taken would not be determined until an audit is completed. He said the figure named may go slightly higher than $5,000.

New Directory Lists Groups

A new directory of coin clubs and numismatic societies over the United States and Canada, has just been compiled and printed by Melvin W. Fishel, of Venice, Calif. Entitled "Coin Club Directory", the booklet has an attractive white stiff paper cover and runs 80 pages. It contains approximately 600 listings of clubs, and their dates and places of meeting.

Idea for the book grew out of a vacation trip Fishel took several years ago, when he wanted to visit coin clubs on his route. Thinking that other numismatists might have the same desire, he originated the directory, with the cooperation of club secretaries, Coin World, the A.N.A. Numismatic News, and others.

Fishel's home clubs are the Bay Cities and Culver City, California, coin clubs, and he is also a member of A.N.A., California State Numismatic Association, Numismatic Association of Southern California, as well as others.

Copies of the directory may be obtained for $1.50 by writing Fishel at 449-28th Avenue, Venice, California.

Yule Deadlines

Readers with news items and advertisers with selling or buying copy should check Coin World deadlines for prompt handling of their material in the coming holiday period.

Because Christmas falls on Sunday, the normal Monday noon deadline for the issue of January 5 will be advanced to Saturday noon, December 24.

Because New Year's Day falls on Sunday, the normal Monday noon deadline for the issue of January 12 will be advanced to Saturday noon, December 31.

Speaker Suggests Alliance Between A.N.A., Treasury

That the American Numismatic Association should set up diplomatic relations with the United States Treasury Department, was a major suggestion made by Herman S. Pressman, Cleveland, Ohio, lawyer and numismatist, in his address at the annual banquet December 11 of the Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, Numismatic Society.

Title of his talk was "The Law and Numismatics", with special reference to laws as they have been applied to "off-metal" coins, alterations, and confiscation of various numismatic material.

Pressman also had several suggestions to make to the A.N.A., regarding grievance and ethics committees and the like. He began his address by mentioning the Federal law regarding alteration of coins. We quote:

"Section 331. Mutilation, Diminution and falsification of coins. Whoever fraudulently defaces, mutilates, impairs, diminishes, falsifies, scales, or lightens, the gold or silver coins coined at the mints of the United States, or any foreign gold or silver coins which are by law made current or are in actual use or circulation as money within the United States, or

Whoever fraudulently possesses, passes, utters, publishes, or sells, or attempts to pass, utter, publish, or sell, or brings into the United States, any such coin knowing the same to be defaced, mutilated, impaired, diminished, falsified, scaled, or lightened,

Shall be fined not more than $2,000 or imprisoned not more than five years, or both."

If you will carefully read the above section of the Federal Code annotated Title 18, you will find that nowhere does it make the alteration or mutilation of minor coins, as a matter of fact any coins that contain alloys or metals other than silver and gold, a criminal offense. Therefore, anyone who alters a date on a copper penny is not liable to criminal prosecution, the law being strictly construed in favor of a defendant.

However, anyone who does alter a coin, can be criminally liable on the theory of intent to defraud, fraud, or larceny by trick.

1. I suggest that the action for proposed legislation be instituted by the A.N.A. as will be suggested further in this text.

2. I suggest that the A.N.A. cause to be started a movement suggesting legislation by Congress or an order of the Treasury Department that any and all coins which can be classified as "pattern coins" now in existence and those which may come into existence in the future be labeled "numismatic material" no matter of what metal they are made or is contained, and that such coinage may be possessed and be exempted from Federal Statute 31, United States 322. The wordage of this proposed legislation, of course, may be changed in its language, however, the import of the section should be upon the point suggested.

3. I suggest that the A.N.A. appoint a committee comprised of members of the Association who are endowed with one major talent: DIPLOMACY, to further and strengthen the relationship between the A.N.A. with the Treasury Department of the United States Government with the view of aiding the government to better understand the science and hobby of Numismatics and to suggest legislation to further the cause of Numismatics and to encourage the government to issue commemorative coins in the future on a par with the issuance of commemorative stamps, so that our hobby may not lag so far behind and that events of importance including the awesome of all events in our recent history, World War I and World War II, be commemorated.

4. I suggest that the A.N.A., a charitable organization, institute a program and encourage its members to endow the Association with gifts and bequests so that the Association may further the interests of Numismatics and afford the younger generation the opportunity to continue this hobby and to grow year by year and to acquire permanent collections, libraries, and any other items of interest to numismatists.

A "Kennedy Quarter" is compared with profile of Pope John XXIII.

tunity to continue this hobby and to grow year by year and to acquire permanent collections, libraries, and any other items of interest to numismatists.

5. I suggest that the A.N.A. form and at all times have available for its use to its members, a Grievance Committee, to which Committee all members of the Association may refer any and all complaints against an association member.

6. Further, that the A.N.A. shall formulate and mail to every member of the Association a Code of Ethics, in which shall be outlined the duties, the moral and civil obligations of dealers and collectors to each other and the public, which shall be adhered to by every member of this Association—and failure to adhere to these rules shall mean expulsion from the Association and notice of such expulsion shall be prominently displayed in the official organ "The Numismatist."

7. I have a vast amount of respect for Dr. Leland F. Howard, assistant director of the Bureau of the Mint, however, as a lawyer, I cannot agree with his interpretation in the case of the United States vs. Barnard reported in 72 Federal Supplement, Page 531, as a basis for confiscation or replevin of so called silver pennies.

The case definitely is not in point with the issue in hand, if read, you will learn that the reason the replevin action was granted in favor of the United States was not because of the alloy or content of metal in the 1933 gold $20 piece involved, but rather because title to the coin never left the United States Government.

Because none were ever issued, the Court held that the only possible means by which this coin could have been obtained was either through larceny or fraud and, of course, the ruling is quite correct because no one can give greater title than they themselves are possessed of when they sell a coin or any other item, and in this case, the dealer who sold the coin to Barnard never had good title.

Prosper DeVos was master of ceremonies for the banquet. Some 85 persons attended out of 100 who had bought tickets, weather keeping a few away.

Pressman had talked with several wives of members present, who said they were not collectors but just wanted a night off from cooking. The speaker told them that if they would bear with him while he addressed the collectors, he would give them a recipe for "chicken paprikash". Several wives asked him for the whimsical recipe following the banquet.

A bourse session was held before and after the dinner.

Quarters Circulate As Prank

Red and silver quarters, with George Washington dressed as a Roman Catholic cardinal, are popping up over the United States as an elaborate post-election "prank", with many seen in the Dayton, Ohio, and Washington, D. C. area.

They have been called "Kennedy Quarters", named for Senator John F. Kennedy, who, on January 20, will become the first Roman Catholic to serve as President of the United States.

"Doctoring" coins is not new, nor is there any law against it, according to Leland Howard, assistant director of the Bureau of the Mint, providing there is no mutilation.

The doctoring is done in any of several ways. Some of the coins are painted with red enamel and some are dressed up with pieces of red plastic tape cut in appropriate shape.

Here is what the strange quarters look like: On the "heads" side, Washington's powdered wig is covered by a red skull cap called a zucchetto (pronounced zoo-ketto).

These are worn by cardinals and stem from the days when all clerics had tonsures, or shaved heads. Washington's shoulders are covered with a red cassock, a clerical-garment which has an ankle-length skirt.

"I don't know how to stop a thing like this," Howard added. "I guess you just let the people have their fun and hope it doesn't go too far."

While it may not be against the law to dress up George Washington, Howard said many banks may refuse to handle the doctored quarters.

He said banks might also withdraw the quarters from circulation as they appear, then turn them in to the government to be recoined.

'Mistrikes On Cents' Latest Book On Errors

Adding to the mounting list of numismatic publications, is a new 24-page pamphlet entitled "Mistrikes and Oddities in the Lincoln Cent," compiled and written by Everett G. Jewett, of Fresno, California.

Described as an "Index and Catalogue", the booklet sells for $1. It is admittedly incomplete, and contains a blank form for readers to fill in with the description of any new finds or corrections, with the aim of future editions as the need arises.

Included in the pamphlet are four pages of illustrations, with two of them covering the minute differences between the various types of 1960.

Values are listed also. The compiler states: "It is thought that this index will also serve as a price catalog to assist in the standardization of prices on the several items. Prices shown in this first issue are based on those obtained locally in the past several months."

In general, the booklet covers the period from 1940 through 1960, with a few listings before that time. Most of them are from 1950 on.

The author is a member of the Fresno Numismatic Society, of which he is corresponding secretary-elect. He has been a collector for six years, giving special emphasis to Lincoln cent errors for the last three. While working on his own indexing system, he was given the suggestion by fellow members that he publish his findings.

Jewett is 34, married, and has five children. When not working on coins, he works as a draftsman for the Santa Fe railroad. His other hobbies are stamp collecting and photography, both of which have "taken a back seat" to his numismatic interests.

Mint . . .

The making of dimes was limited to the Philadelphia Mint in November with 11,680,000 being made. This swells the 1960 production to 270,550,400 or over 28,000,000 more than in the same period of last year.

Quarters to the total of 7,908,000 were made in Philadelphia during November and represent nearly a tenth of the year's production total of 79,056,324. This compares with 76,239,776 which were made in 1959.

A check of the Coin World cumulative mint report comparison (found on page 23 of this edition) will indicate that the Denver Mint has already outproduced the entire year of 1959 in the total number of coins because of some heavy mintage of minor denominations of nickels and cents.

The Philadelphia Mint is lagging behind last year's total piece production in all denominations except nickels, a study of the production figures will reveal.

Proof coins for 1960 total nearly 50 per cent greater than last year as 1,559,064 have been made by Philadelphia in 11 months while the total for all 12 months in 1959 was 1,149,291 sets.

Dies Got Mileage

Mint reports of early years referred only to coins minted that year, regardless of the date on the coin. Dies of previous years were used until they wore out.

Your Name Or Firm Name

New collectors have a tendency to create a business name under which they buy and sell coins. It has been said that the first time a person comes to a coin club, he comes as a collector. The second time, he comes as a dealer.

Dick Johnson

We feel it is not necessary for a collector to become a dealer—or set up a business name—just to buy and sell coins or to form a collection.

It is a collector's inalienable right to buy and sell coins as he chooses.

However, the tyro collector must think it necessary to create a business name to deal in coins. We cannot think of a justifiable reason for doing so, and can think of several disadvantages.

By calling yourself the XYZ Coin Company you may be subjecting yourself to a license required by your community. You do not require a license if you deal under your own name! Coin collecting is a hobby—you are buying coins for your collection and selling your duplicates.

By dealing under a firm name you are taking it out of the realm of a hobby and placing it in the realm of a business. Therefore you subject yourself to controls, licensing, taxes, reports and red tape.

Recently we received a letter from a doctor. "I am advertising under" . . . (here we will use a fictitious name, say Ned's Coins) . . . "because these are my wife's initials." Well this doctor didn't know there were already three other advertisers who had used the name, Ned's Coins. One of these could not advertise again for his mistreatment of customers.

We believe the response to the doctor's ad would have been far greater had he signed it "Dr. J. J. Doe" instead of "Ned's Coins."

If you have the desire to set up a firm name, when in reality all you wish to do is buy and sell coins, resist the temptation to use a company name. Instead use something far more valuable—your own name!

Token Collectors Note!

The new token organization, Society of Tokens, Medals, and Paper Money Collectors, is a logical step in the direction of specialty organizations.

Years before, numismatic societies were organized only on a geographical basis: national, regional, state and local. Now it certainly makes sense for collectors with similar interest to band together.

Other specialized organizations are highly successful: the numismatic error collectors, the transportation token collectors, and the orders, medals and decoration collectors. They show a useful purpose to their own members and numismatics in general.

We highly recommend the new token organization! If you are interested in tokens, medals or obsolete paper money, cut out the form on page 3 of this issue and mail it with your check to the secretary.

Betty Parker Wins Hawaiian Medal Prize

Betty Parker was awarded the special prize of a Hawaiian medal at the recent Logansport, Indiana, Coin Club banquet. Wayne Johnson served as master of ceremonies.

The more than 50 persons attending were entertained by George Paxton, Indianapolis, member of the club and a professional magician as well as numismatist.

Rarity, Age Not Valuation Measure

Neither age nor comparative rarity have a direct bearing on the catalogue value of a coin. The 1916-D dime, with 264,000 mintage is valued at $35 in good, while the 1914-P half dollar, with less than half the quantity, at 124,230 mintage, has a catalogue value of $12.50 in very good. It is not valued in good.

Letters To The Editor

Enclosed is my check for a 10 inch ad in Coin World. In my opinion, Coin World has become the leading newspaper in the numismatic field and to be perfectly frank with you, I didn't think a weekly paper could make the grade. Your format is definitely the best of all the papers I subscribe to and I get two others besides yours. Congratulations to you.

Ray Leavitt

(EDITOR'S NOTE—There were a lot of other people who did not think a coin newspaper could be published weekly when the possibilities were being checked out a year ago.)

I just wanted to let you know that I was one of the bargain hunters who tried to get something for nothing from 'Buell & Son.' As luck would have it, I subscribe to a coin paper, Coin World, which checks up on their advertisers and I received my check back six days after I sent it out. Thanks again for the good work and keep it up.

In answer to your article, "Theorizes 1960 Date Furor May Soon Be Forgotten." I believe such articles are adverse publicity for anyone who advertises in your paper.

I for one was lucky to have got a few rolls of 1960-P small dates. Your opinion that they are numismatic errors is one man's way of thinking. There must (have) been an altered plate or new ones made for some reason. How about 1858 cents small and large? Are they forgotten?

There seem to be a lot of sour notes given by collectors who do not have a roll of these 1960 small dates, or is it jealousy to hurt the ones that do have them.

I dare you to print this.
W. C. Dutton
Northlake, Illinois

I have watched your page on roll trends since its inception last spring. However, I did not write as I wanted to reserve judgement for a few months and see what I thought at a later date.

Now I would like to commend you on the good job you have been doing, particularly through the last two or three months when a wrong comment from you could have caused panic, not only in rolls but also in much of the numismatic field as far back as 1900.

Your moderate, conservative, executive handling of the situation, we believe, has been beyond reproach.

A word on the current trend as far as we are concerned is that the roll market is firming up. We are at the bottom as far as price is concerned and believe other leading dealers are in the same position.

In recent months we have sold many rolls at cut prices and must increase our retail price in order to restock. This applies particularly strongly on rolls before 1945.

We have run buy ads of recent date and find that investors are not willing to give anything away. Our ads, scheduled to run after November 10 and November 20, will have higher prices on many listings. Again, keep up the good reporting.

As second Vice-President of the Tampa Coin Club, I feel a personal affront to myself and all the other officers and members of the Tampa Coin Club caused by your editorial on page 4, November 3, 1960 issue of Coin World.

I am referring to your editorial headed "Address: P.O. Box" and I quote your first paragraph. "An officer in the coin club in Tampa, Florida, recently told the club members to refrain from writing to dealers and collectors with a post office box as an address. This officer should have known better."

I feel that you, Mr. Johnson, as editor of a very fine and widely read paper, "should have known better" than to print such a damaging, positive statement, without any proof of it having been said in the words you printed.

No doubt, some member misunderstood the statement in the incident quoted but I assure you, Mr. Johnson, that you do not have any proof of this statement. Every officer of the Tampa Coin Club denies having made this statement and not one of us have received any request for information to verify this incident, from you. You might have said, "an officer is reported to have said—" or "an officer is alleged to have said—".

But no, you made a positive statement, without proof, that we feel was damaging to ourselves and our club. We feel that we have been belittled in the eyes of all the coin collectors and readers of your very fine paper.

Let me tell you something about our club.

The Tampa Coin Club had been inactive for several years. Early this year it was re-organized with a nucleus of 14 and now the paid up membership is over 130 with a nice percentage of these junior members.

We meet twice monthly in the conference room of the First National Bank Building at 7:30 p.m. To contact the club, address all mail to "Secretary, Tampa Coin Club, P. O. Box No. 3296, Tampa, Florida." Our first meeting of the month is on the Second Thursday, when we have an educational session, which includes lectures, topics of interest and coin-swapping. The second monthly meeting is on the Fourth Thursday. At this meeting, we have our regular business meeting and an auction.

The misunderstood and misquoted statement probably happened at our meeting of September 8, 1960. Our speaker did not show up as scheduled at this meeting. In the absence of our club president, Earl Myers, the first vice president, Frank Vitello, was in charge. Mr. Vitello felt that since so many of our members were newcomers to the coin collecting ranks, that it would be interesting to open the floor to general discussion and questions.

Several members spoke on how and what to collect; cleaning coins, etc. I asked for and got the floor to relate an incident that happened to me. I told about being defrauded by a Fake Mail bid sale allegedly conducted by James R. Bartlett.

His ad appeared in another coin publication over a year ago. The ad was beautifully set up and looked and sounded quite genuine. He notified me I was successful on all the items I had bid on except one small inexpensive lot.

This letter of notification was on stationery printed with "Bay Coin and Stamp Company" heading and gave a street address in Panama City, Florida. (He did not give a P.O. Box number.) I was told to send a certified check for these items to expedite shipment. This I promptly did. I never received any of the items nor do I have any hope of ever getting

Joseph Was A Coin Collector

By Arthur F. Giere

In the Book of Genesis which was authored by Moses we read, "And Joseph collected all the money which was found in the Land of Egypt and in the Land of Canaan." Joseph was a favorite son of Jacob. Had he lived today his name would perhaps be Josef Jacobson. He was governor of Egypt. This Jew had won favor with the Coptic rulers because he was adept at interpreting the king's bad dreams.

Egypt was a country of great wealth. The land area at that time was about equal to that of the states of Colorado and Texas combined. The Land of Canaan was approximately the size of Palestine. The Jews called it the Land of Heaven, the Land of Promise, and the Land Flowing with Milk and Honey.

Reading further in the Book of Genesis we note: "And Joseph brought all the money into Pharaoh's house." Now Pharaoh was perhaps Apophis, of the 15th Egyptian dynasty. This all happened about 1800 years before Christ.

If this statement is to be relied on, then it must be an historical fact that Joseph gathered all the money which was found in the Land of Egypt and in the Land of Canaan. That must have been a heap of money. He must have had many sacks of interesting metals and Pharaoh's house must have contained a veritable museum of monetary items.

Undoubtedly, the Egyptian governor had problems a plenty when it came to sorting out, filing and arranging and storing his collection of money consisting of flat metal rings, vessels, pots, spoons, utensils, cups, pieces of golden nuggets, goblets, bars of silver, candlesticks, arm rings, earrings and finger rings.

And how would he catalog these items? How would one store them so that they could be found when needed? Think of the many cubic yards of space needed. Surely not the least problem would be transportation of tons and tons of metals carried on the backs of jackasses.

On the other hand, Governor Josephus had no problems common to other collectors: Dates, conditions, varieties, mint marks, flanges, obverses, overstrikes, patterns, reverses, reeded edges, types, coin folders, coin envelopes, milled edges, lettered edges, fields, planchets, legends, rareties, symbols and inscriptions were unnecessary terms for him in determining values.

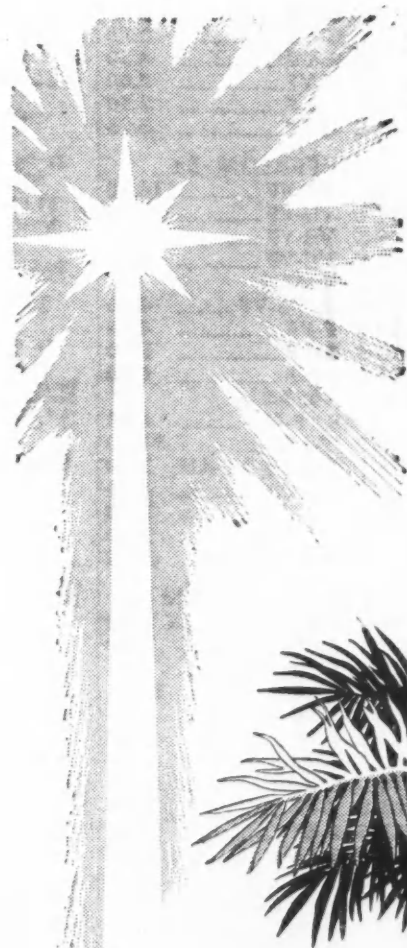

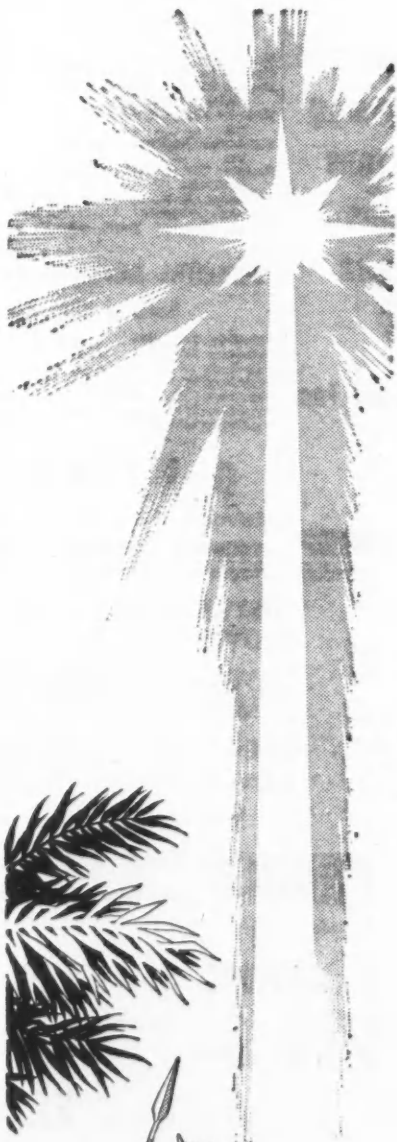

Joseph, the son of Jacob, was an outstanding collector of money but that did not make him a coin collector, or numismatist. What is money? Money is any material that by agreement serves as a common medium of exchange and measure of value in trade. On the other hand, a coin is a piece of metal of prescribed weight and composition, stamped by public authorities for use as money.

But Joseph of old had more problems than that. He lived in the age of uncoined money. All money that he used had to be weighed and measured and he would have to tote a scale or a balance wherever he went and it would have to be carted around by a beast of burden, a jackass.

Also he had difficulties in making change. He would have to hunt around until he found a certain number of articles and materials that would add up to the price of the item which he bought and that was a problem.

So it was not strange that there grew up a profession known as money changers and that was an important profession among the Jews in the Land of Egypt and in the Land of Canaan. It was a profession which later earned for itself a reputation for impiety, avarice and fraudulent dealings.

Bank Note Inventor Sentenced To Death!

By Axel Miltander

The inventor of modern bank notes, Johan Palmstruch, was sentenced to death. It happened for about 300 years ago, in Stockholm, Sweden. Mr. Palmstruch was, however, reprieved from the death penalty and needn't go to any Swedish "San Quentin".

Here is the real background:

In my letter in Coin World November 24 I told you about the big square-shaped coins minted in Sweden from 1644 and later. The heaviest type had a weight of 50 pounds and was, of course, hard to keep in the waistcoat pocket.

Something must be done. And something was done.

Mr. Palmstruch, a Dutchman, came to Stockholm from Amsterdam, where he had been employed in a bank. When he saw the unpractical Swedish coins he got an idea. He started his own bank and printed bank notes. A paper currency had the same value as a big coin.

If you came to a bank with such a bank note you could get such a big coin or vice versa. These bank notes were the first ones in the world except for those printed in China earlier.

It was a lucky idea in the start. Mr. P. loaned money and paid no interest but lent them out taking a little change. The new system ended, however, in a big crash for Mr. P. as he could not have control over the circulating stock of notes. The bank was closed and Mr. P., as I said, sentenced to death.

But an idea had been born. Some years later a new, official bank was started and in 1745 we had notes again and have had all years later. And they are, indeed, much more comfortable to carry than coins weighing 50 pounds.

Another letter: A reader tells me that he collects coin after a monarchy system. He tries to get one coin from every king's reign in the world and would like to have the "king-list" of Sweden. May I say that the modern Swedish history began in 1521, when Gustaf Vasa was King.

The complete list shows: Gustaf Vasa 1521-1560, Erik XIV 1560-1568, Johan III 1568-1592, Sigismund 1592-1599, Karl IX 1599-1611, Gustaf II Adolf 1611-1632, Christina 1632-1654, Karl X Gustaf 1654-1660, Karl XI 1660-1697, Karl XII 1697-1718, Ulrika 1718-1720, Fredrik I 1720-1751, Adolf Fredrik 1751-1771, Gustaf III 1771-1792, Gustaf IV Adolf 1792-1809, Karl XIII 1809-1818, Karl XIV 1818-1844, Oscar I 1844-1859, Karl XV 1859-1872, Oscar II 1872-1907, Gustaf V 1907-1950, Gustaf VI Adolf 1950-later.

In all, 22 royalties. The readers also ask me what it could cost him to get a coin from all the kings. Hard to say. But one coin from each one of the 10 latest kings (in silver) would cost about 25 dollars in F to XF condition. About medals I think a "set" of 22 kings would cost about 60 dollars.

ELLSWORTH SPECIALTIES CO.
Box 372 Stateline, Calif.

60 to 70 years ago, we were about to turn away when we saw the odd-shaped silver coin. It lay in an odd - and - end tray dealers have at conventions. Such a tray contains various coins, usually at bargain prices.

Ted R. Hammer

The coin that attracted us was a silver piece about the size of a half dollar, although not a perfect disc. The price was $4.50. We asked the dealer what it was and he shook his head and shrugging, indicating he had no idea. It resembled a South American cob that your correspondent's wife has had for 25 years.

A cob is a crude coin of Mexico and South America, made more than 200 years ago. The term cob was applied to the piece of eight because of the crude manner in which it was made. Of irregular shape, it received its impression by being struck with a hammer.

They are seldom round, as they should be. Their irregular shape made it easy to clip off or shave off the edges for the metal. Actually, a cob was a lump of bullion flattened out then with design put on by a blow from a hammer. The word means something rounded or forming a roundish lump.

Asked how he arrived at the price, he said he "supposed it's because I paid $3 for it—that's my standard markup." So we took the coin home to the student of the family. It took her 12 minutes to provide a complete history of the piece.

It is an eight real coin of Peru, bearing the name Philip II, 1555-1598. Even today it is of lawful weight, as most were. Some of these cob pieces are dated as late as 1770.

Many are undated, as was the coin picked up in the odd lot assortment. When dated, the thousandth place usually is omitted, so that a coin of 1736 would have the numerals 736.

Lettering often is not sharp and clear on the cobs, even when they have seen little circulation. There are half cobs (4 real coins) and quarter cobs (2 reals.)

Trends Of Today's Coin Values

More Gold In Golden Rule Is Kelly View

By Jim Kelly

333 W. First St., Dayton 2, Ohio

Numismatic activities usually taper off during the holiday season as most collectors find their hobby money being spent for doo-dads to fill the children's—both old and young—Christmas stockings. This is the first year that any coin conventions or regional meetings of any consequence were scheduled after Thanksgiving.

Jim Kelly

Some of this lag in business is taken up by the extra sales of supplies, books and coin novelties given as Christmas presents.

Naturally, a few died-in-the-wool collectors ignore, and even resent, practically any circumstance, holiday or otherwise, which interferes with their collecting. All in all, it is a period when coin activities are at their lowest ebb—not from lack of interest but rather because of so many other affairs demanding their time as well as their money.

Along with the Christmas festivities, it would seem appropriate to give some thought to the real significance of this holiday—the birth of Christ. Much of the future of our country, our collecting and most other things dear to us, depend on the principles taught by Him.

An old but true phrase can be applied to our dealings which will make our hobby, as well as ourselves, feel better and be better, and it is simply this: Do unto others as you would have others do unto you.

Schulman Reports

Schulman Watches $28,000 Sale;
Bids On Coin With Two Buyers!

We are still a bit weak in our knees from the $28,000 price obtained for the 1804 dollar in the Fairbanks auction of Stack's. This is the highest price ever obtained in the world for one single coin! I attended the sale and it was the greatest numismatic event of the year!

My compliments to Harvey, Norman and Ben Stack and my congratulations. Auctioneer Donald D'Amato did a swell job.

MENTION "COIN WORLD" IN ANSWERING ANY AD!

Company ran a successful, well attended auction at the New Weston. Your correspondent had received such a large pile of letters and telegrams from all over South America and Europe to buy in that sale that I had to bid on almost every lot—and obtained quite many too.

Something unusual happened which requires explanation as many people attended that sale asked me about. The auctioneer knocked down a coin to me for, let us say $75. I had received bids from Brazil for instance for $90 on that coin and from Switzerland on the same coin $130.

Now what will these two buyers say when they see the prices published? Of course the one who bids $130 gets the coin, but the bidder for $90 is surely going to write me a letter and will disagree.

The only correct thing to do was: when the auctioneer was ready to knock it down for $75 to say $95 and to pay $95. This way the bidder of $90 was out of the running and the bidder for $130 had been saved $35 on his bid and would certainly be satisfied.

Everybody was in town for these sales—too many to mention. Now we will have a short time to recuperate until the big Walhorf Astoria auction February 16, 17 and 18. As you all know this is the big event of the year.

Abner Kreisberg gathers the greatest U.S. rarities together from many consignors for one year to spin them around in the Waldorf, together with the greatest foreign rarities gathered in New York.

The catalogue is always a masterpiece of standard work both for the U.S. collector and the foreign collector. Nine hundred crowns are featured on Thursday night and 700 rare foreign gold coins on Saturday morning, and

Piedmont Society Elects Officers For New Season

New officers of the Piedmont Numismatic Society, Newton, North Carolina, were elected at its December meeting, headed by Arnold Barwick as president. Others include:

J. B. Gregory, vice president; Jeffrey V. Stewart, Sr., secretary; James A. Hewitt, treasurer; Floyd Propst, director, three year term; Dr. James D. Cochran, Jr., director, two year term; Ernie B. Clapp, director, one year term.

The Piedmont group was organized two years ago, and has since grown to a membership of more than 100. It has built up a reputation for what are called its "Fifth Saturday Night Auctions".

At these auctions, free bourse tables and free refreshments are features. Numismatists from Tennessee, West Virginia, Virginia, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, as well as North Carolina, get together to buy and sell.

The Piedmont Numismatic Society has as its slogan, "If it won't sell in Newton, it just plain won't sell".

Regular meetings of the organization are held the second Thursday evening of each month, in the community room of the Citizens Savings and Loan Association, 12 North Main avenue. Visitors are welcomed and invited to participate in any activity, according to the secretary.

April 7 - 9 Dates For Michigan Meet

Dates for the spring convention of the Michigan State Numismatic Society have been announced as April 7-9, 1961, at the Occidental Hotel in Muskegon.

Host club will be the Muskegon Coin Club. General chairman of the convention is P. H. Frans, Holland, Michigan.

MENTION "COIN WORLD" IN ANSWERING ANY AD!

THOUSANDS OF USERS

EASY TO USE — FAST
ECONOMICAL
ACTUALLY CLEANS
IN SECONDS

Useful for cleaning all kinds of coins, but particularly adapted to cleaning coins of copper or nickel.

Does not add shine but brings out natural color, including original brilliance if it is still there under tarnish or coating. Tarnish vanishes and dull or dark uncirculated coins become brilliant uncirculated coins. It does this in seconds. You will be amazed.

This product, the result of years of experiment, can be used safely on valuable coins to improve their appearance and increase their value.

On sale in many leading stores in 4-oz. bottles, with full directions, at $1.00.

If your dealer does not yet have it, send us $1.00 for a 3-oz. bottle (enough to clean hundreds of coins), carefully packed, unbreakable bottle, postpaid to any address in the U.S. or Canada.

The appearance of worn coins, large cents, small cents, etc., can be greatly improved by "highlighting", (contrasting light and dark). Use the Victory Miracle Cloth for this only 50c postpaid.

SPECIAL OFFER TO DEALERS

We want you to try "CCC" on your counter. It Sells! Send $4.00 for six 4-oz. bottles (postpaid in the U.S.).

Mexican General On Memorial Medal

The united veterans of the "Division of the North" in Mexico, in celebrating the 50th anniversary of the Mexican revolution this year, have had this medal struck to memorialize the famous general, Francisco Villa. Known as the "Centaur of the North", Villa is depicted on his horse in a characteristic pose. On the other side of the medal is the insignia of the Division of the North, with the familiar Eagle and Snake on the Cactus of Mexico and the 1960 date.

Kansas Group Meets Monthly

The Minneapolis, Kansas, Coin Club meets the third Thursday of each month in the meeting room of the court house in Minneapolis. Anyone interested in collecting, buying, selling, trading or just in having coins identified or valued, are welcomed to attend the meetings.

Club Aids Libraries' Numismatics

The Triple Cities Coin Club of New York state has formed a three-man committee to act as a liaison with public libraries in that area to present recommendations for improving their numismatic sections.

The committee comprises Paul Christiansen, Endicott; Thomas Novobilski, Johnson City, and Floyd Mottram, Binghamton.

As a preliminary, the club has purchased subscriptions to "The Numismatist" for three major libraries, the Binghamton City library, the Johnson City Home library and the George F. Johnson Memorial library in Endicott. The magazine will be mailed directly to those libraries.

With the increasing interest in numismatics, and the many new books being published in the field, the club felt that its services could well be useful in helping the libraries select the best volumes and in providing better information concerning the hobby.

Iowa Club Holds Auction

Lyman Tucker Locates Missing C-A!

Does the United States Treasury Department have a sixth sense? Lyman Tucker, of Apple Creek, Ohio, thinks so! After months of search for a C-A prefix on the series 1957 Priest-Anderson $1 silver certificate, he has found one, just after a Coin World feature describing the interruption of the sequence. Nelson Yoder, of Mt. Eaton, Ohio, found a C-A bill for Tucker at a Buffalo, New York, hotel. Yoder and the hotel desk clerk at the hotel went through a stack of ones three inches high, but failed to find any more. Tucker theorizes the C-A's were released because of the seasonal demand for fresh money over the year-end holidays. He presumes some other serial letter block of bills will quietly disappear in the near future to take its place when the demand slackens.

Rochester Club Plans Auction

An auction will be the major part of the program at the next meeting, Thursday, December 29, of the recently organized Rochester, Minnesota, Coin Club.

Club Election Set

Election of officers for 1961 was to be the main item of business at the December meeting of the Gold Star Coin Club of Concord, North Carolina, to be held at the Concord Recreation Center. An auction was scheduled, along with the election.

Election Due

The Mansfield, Ohio, Coin and Stamp Club was to elect a new slate of officers at its December meeting.

insurance agents, tried to block the bandit's exit, employees reported. The bank and the insurance company, in the same building, share a common front door.

The bank's alarm, not connected to police headquarters, had just been set off by Miss Johnson.

The story, according to insurance company employees, then unfolded in sequence:

The robber, described as stocky, wearing a car coat and red hunting cap, began walking nonchalantly around to the back of the building, located just off Bruey Square.

Keep then ran through the insurance company office, to try to head off the robber. Apparently realizing he was pursued, the bandit then started to run for his car, a blue 1957 sedan parked behind a restaurant and headed toward Worcester.

Keep chased him for a short distance, then returned to the bank entrance and collapsed. Don M. Ward, vice president and assistant treasurer of the insurance agency, went to Keep's aid. In so doing, he spotted the registration number of the alleged holdup man's car.

The alarm was turned into police by a neighboring store proprietor. Police broadcast the registration number on all police networks. Worcester police followed this lead, traced the car to Brule. Checking at Brule's home detectives were told by the suspect's wife, Phoebe, that he was at his stamp and coin shop, The Village Stamp Mart in Worcester.

In the store, police said, they found part of the money and a gun. Brule was apprehended at 3:10 p.m. by local police and state troopers.

Brule told police he pulled the job because he was in financial difficulty, Auburn Chief Campbell said. Part of the money was returned by creditors to whom Brule apparently had made payments before he was picked up, police said.

Brule was formerly employed by the Worcester post office as a distribution clerk from 1952 to July 28 of this year, when he resigned, police said.

The gun, which police said Brule admitted using in the holdup, was an automatic of Belgian make. There was one shell in the clip when the weapon was confiscated.

Watch Coin Scratches

Minute scratches around the date of a coin should warn a prospective buyer to check further as to the coin's authenticity.

Fair To Very Fine Coin Grading Standards Influence Column Change

By James G. Johnson

Some readers may note a very small change in the heading for this column, use of the label "Fair" instead of "Poor". This is due to a letter received from Dr. Fred M. Hedges of Water Valley, Mississippi (that state with the unspellable name!).

James Johnson

Dr. Hedges wrote: "I have read and enjoyed your articles, and respectfully request a change in your column head, to 'Fair to Fine (or Very Fine)'."

"First, because I believe Fair to be a better numismatic term for a coin in less than Good condition, and second, I believe all your articles will grade well above 'Poor'."

Thanks for the kind words, Dr. Hedges, and your suggestion has been followed more quickly than your medical advice has probably been by some of your patients, since most people don't like what is good for them.

Your letter gives me an excuse for some more remarks about grading. As a matter of fact, "Poor" is used mostly to designate a coin that has been marred or mutilated, regardless of its condition otherwise, and "Fair", to designate, as you say, a coin that is less than "Good". In older days, "Poor" was what Dr. W. H. Sheldon considered "Basal condition", that is, just identifiable and not mutilated. Anything worse than that was called "junk".

He worked out a numerical grading scale for large cents that could be applied to any coin, with (1) being the basal condition, and (70) being a "Gem" just off the coin press.

So, Condition 1, in Dr. Sheldon's scale, is a barely identifiable coin but not mutilated. Condition 2 is what is generally called "Fair", and Condition 4 is "Good", with a Condition 3 being allowed for what may be described as "Very Fair".

Very Good is Condition 7, while Fine is Condition 12; Condition

20 is Very Fine, Condition 40 is Extra or Extremely Fine, and Condition 50 is AU. Condition 60 is Mint State or "strictly uncirculated", while Condition 70 describes a coin that is absolutely "Perfect" in every way, a "Gem".

Most of the older dealers and collectors are familiar with this system, and would use it among themselves. But since so many of the more recent comers to nu-

Patience, Luck Factors In Search For Key Coins

"I wish to inform you that I and a friend, Ray Ontiveros, went through some vending machine cents received from his father-in-law, and found two 1931-S fine and one 1909-S very good Lincoln cents.

"We thought you would like for other collectors to know that good coins can be found in vending machines, at least we were very pleased".

William Hall,
Ontario, California.

COMMENT: We run this letter first in the Clearinghouse because we agree that the average collector will indeed feel that this is good news.

Hall does not say how many coins he and his friend looked through before making his "finds", but the average collector is an exceedingly patient individual. It is our belief, however, that to find such "key" coins, the seeker must be both patient and lucky.

The scarce ones are in circulation, alright, but when you figure the number minted, the population of the United States, and the number of years in which those coins have had the chance to get worn out, mutilated, buried somewhere, or otherwise destroyed, the odds against a given individual finding one are pretty large.

That is why they cost so much when you want to buy one from a dealer. And you can't blame the dealer. After all, when he has sold what he has, where will he replace them? "They don't make them any more!" Keep on looking, Average Collector!

An 18-year-old member of the Brazosport, Texas, Coin Club, J. W. Terrill of Lake Jackson has shown himself more observant than most. So far as we know he is the first person in the United States to notice, or at least report, that the star between the Liberty and the date on the Jefferson nickel had a radical change in size in 1957.

Previous to that date, it was quite small, whereas in 1957 and 1958 it was large enough for the difference to be seen with the naked eye. It is back to small in some 1960 nickels.

With so many oddities being reported these days, young Terrill wonders why this one has been kept secret.

J. W. Terrill

COMMENT: Probably because nobody noticed it. Its importance we leave up to History, or the time when somebody will write a book about Jefferson nickels, such as have been written about half cents, large cents, half dollars, and the like.

We commend Terrill on his powers of observation, and curiosity, a trait we consider one of the most important any person can have and one that is fast disappearing in this age. Every great inventor and explorer had it. Keep on being curious, Terrill, and the sky can be the limit for your future career.

President Speaks

"Rarity Based on Mintage" and "Postal Currency During the War" were topics scheduled to be discussed by newly elected president Louis Sakal at a recent meeting of the Will County, Illinois, Coin Club to be held at the New Lenox Methodist Church.

Besides Sakal, other new officers are Ray Gursh, vice president; Mrs. William Neisweinder, secretary, and Martin Lewis, treasurer.

Old Faithful Trade Bait

This 1928 Reo fire engine was "trade bait" for coins in a recent Coin World classified advertisement. It is owned by W. E. Lane, Almont, Michigan, and was in use by the Almont Fire Department until five years ago. Everything works, and it still runs, according to Lane.

Altered Date Bill To Go Before Legislators

Altered date "rarities" may soon be a thing of the past if Southern Illinois numismatists have their way. Congressman Kenneth J. Gray, recently elected to his third term in the House of Representatives from the 25th Illinois District, has pledged his help to Congress to do away with alteration of United States coins, both date and mintmark.

Advised of the situation which currently exists, Congressman Gray said in a letter to Roy C. Small, prominent Harrisburg, Ill., numismatist:

"... I was rather surprised to learn that this kind of problem exists, but I can readily see how inexperienced collectors could be duped by such alterations.

"Therefore, you may rest assured that I will do everything in my power as a legislator to secure passage of legislation which will make such alterations subject to the same legal penalties as present laws covering the defacing of coins.

"I am today requesting the proper legal councils of the Congress to prepare a bill which I will introduce at the opening of the new Congress in January to cover this matter... At my first opportunity

I will discuss the matter with our mutual friend Senator Paul Douglas and ask Paul's assistance in the Senate."

Collectors having documentary information to help support such a bill should send it to Roy Small, in care of Register Publishing Co., Harrisburg, Illinois, where the material will be properly tabulated and given to Congressman Gray to aid in debate on the bill if necessary.

Christmas Advances Club

The Lawton-Fort Sill, Oklahoma, Coin Club holds its meetings in the civic room of the Lawton Security Bank and Trust Company.

Normally it meets on the last Monday of each month at 7:30 p.m., but the December session was to be held on the 19th, because of the 26th being a holiday. The club invites all persons interested in collecting to attend the meetings.

At a recent session, Jack Munn, a staff member of the Bank and Trust Company, and a collector, was scheduled to talk on the "Background, Design, and Grading of Lincoln Cents". Also on the program were an auction and special awards.

mismatics do not know it, and nobody has taken the time to teach them, it is not in common use. That is one reason why the terms "Very Good" or "Fine" mean only what their user wants them to mean.

That is why such an absurd term as "About AU" appeared in a recent advertisement. Since "AU" means "About Uncirculated", the absurdity is apparent.

An attempt has been made to standardize grading, one of the most badly needed things in the whole field of numismatics, by Brown and Dunn. Many people do not agree with some of "B & D's" gradings, but my point would be that the book is a step in the right direction, standardization, and nobody has done anything better, so we should stick with it until somebody does.

Nobody but Dr. Sheldon, that is. However, his system takes a little learning, and the average collector these days has neither the time to learn nor anybody to teach him.

In my humble opinion, that is a major reason for the existence of coin clubs, but they have grown so fast that the result is almost the same as if there were none, as far as teaching the beginner is concerned. In large part they exist merely as meeting places at which collectors can acquire or dispose of their coins. There are exceptions, of course, and I shall probably get some indignant letters from them.

Don't get me wrong. I believe in clubs as a place to buy, sell, or trade, but that should not be their sole reason for being. There is much more to numismatics, and coin collecting, than that.

To return to grading, I have never forgotten a statement made to me by a member of the Akron, Ohio, Coin Club, when I was a newcomer to the ranks. I had asked him about cleaning a coin, and he told me that cleaning did not change the condition of a coin, but usually brought out more sharply any weaknesses that might exist, scratches, worn spots, and the like, and made it "unnatural" in appearance. What he said was this:

"A 'Fine' coin is a fine coin, and nothing you can do will change it except make it worse, and you cannot improve the condition of a lesser grade of coin to make it fine when it is not."

I could go on and on in this matter of grading, ad infinitum, ad nauseam, etc., so I will cut it off with a final paragraph. In Coin World issue of December 15, page 39, there is in an ad which uses the Sheldon system, in part. I commend it for study as a sample of what can be done.

In studying the ad, keep in mind the numerical equivalents mentioned early in this column, "4" being "Good", "7" being "Very Good", "12" being "Fine", and so on. The numbers in between represent grades in between, with "10" being closer to "Fine" than it is to "Very Good", for example.

Dr. Hedges also mentions a pet project of his, in connection with 1909-S VDB cents. He says he will never forget the day he found one (neither will any other collector, Doctor). But he would like to make a survey to find out how many of this "Key" coin are actually in the hands of dealers and collectors over the country. He believes the results of such a survey would be of wide interest and would like Coin World to help.

I am sorry to disappoint you, Dr. Hedges. My editor believes there are some things it is better not to know, and that is one of them. You can probably figure out some reasons for that.

St. Louis Society Has Yule Session

The Missouri Numismatic Society of St. Louis was scheduled to hold its Christmas meeting, its 231st session, on December 12, at the Hotel Claridge.

Because it was the Christmas meeting, no speaker was on the program, but a business meeting was to be held, followed by awarding of attendance prizes, and refreshments.

Bourse tables were to operate before and after the business session, but by club rule, all tables were to close, both for selling and display, during the business session.

The club conducts an auction, with a charge of 25 cents per lot for those realizing less than $5, and 50 cents per lot for those realizing $5 or more.

Each member is permitted to enter five lots, but each lot must be attached to a suitable card bearing a description of the coin. Only club members are allowed to participate in the auctions.

Will Rogers Club Formed

The auction sponsored by the recently organized Will Rogers Coin Club of Claremore, Oklahoma, and held in the Blue Room of the Will Rogers Hotel there, was a smashing success, according to Club President George Curtis.

More than 50 collectors, some from as far away as Oklahoma City and Seminole, traveled to Claremore to attend the affair, and all seemed pleased with the new club.

Proof sets and uncirculated rolls met with popularity at the auction table, and coins went well.

January 7 Banquet Date

The annual banquet of the Inland Empire Coin Club of Spokane, Washington, has been set for Saturday, January 7, at the Spokane Hotel.

This will replace the regular January meeting which would have fallen on Monday, January 2. It was felt that this date is too close to the holidays.

Included on the program for the banquet session will be the installation of officers, and the January coin auction. Exhibits will be displayed in competition.

Authorities Differ

Yeoman's Red Book recognizes three die varieties of the 1826 cent. Newcomb recognized 14.

Club Shows Collections In CC Window

The Phillips County, Arkansas, Coin Collectors Club has placed an exhibit of coins and currency in the window of the Helena, Arkansas, Chamber of Commerce.

Almost every kind of United States coin is represented, including nine different types of half dollars. Included among foreign issues is a coin of Constantine the Great, a square coin from Malaya, aluminum money, and other odd pieces.

An index of dates, denominations and values is also posted in the window to aid onlookers in identifying what they see.

Responsible for putting the exhibit together are Bill Bagwell, James Zambie, A. R. Gladin and Ivey Gladin, members of the Phillips County club.

Mint Gavel Presented

Store Adds Coins

The B. R. Baker Company, Adams and Superior Streets, Toledo, announces a new and complete department for coin and stamp collectors.

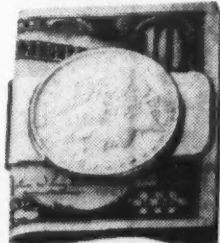

Collections of coins and stamps, outfits and catalogues are featured by the department store's new division.

Schulman . . .

a collection of platinum rarities unique in the world!

This is part of the famous Atlas collection and the sale will be long remembered. It is the fifth sale run by the Kreisburg-Schulman combination since the famous Menjou sale in 1957.

For the joke section: Robert Pridgen reports that a lady hearing that 1943 copper cents are worth a fortune figured that her 1943 Canadian copper cent should be worth much more. She knew that Canadian coins bring higher prices than U.S. coins (where did she know this from?).

She called Pridgen and told him her 1943 Canadian cent should be worth more than $10,000. Pridgen told her that it was worth exactly one cent and not more. He heard a noise on the other end of the telephone—the lady had fallen off her chair!

Then she banged the telephone down on the hook without uttering another word. Or did she tell Pridgen something which he could not repeat?

Short News: Joseph B. Stack has changed the cool air on 57th street for the sunny warmth of Palm Beach. I don't blame him a bit. If I had a staff like he has behind him, what wouldn't I do? Anyhow, we all wish you a wonderful vacation, Joe.

Catalonian numismatist Antonio Llor flew into New York and we felt that he stayed too shortly among us. We want to know him better.

Engineer Ferraro Vaz from Lisbon published the first of his monumental works on mediaval Portuguese coins and it is a beauty. Published at only $7.50 the first volume is a real treat in your numismatic library. Good work, Ferraro.

Mario Ratto is having a public auction in Milano with the usual high priced Italian and foreign rarities.

Leon Moens writes us about his Congo experiences and we wish him luck in his homeland, Belgium, where he recently returned.

Prices from the Lucerne sale in October, held by Bank Leu and Adolph Hess, and the Jacques Schulman's sale on November 7, are listed here:

Waterloo Society To Hold Annual Banquet March 11

March 11, 1961, has been set for the second annual banquet of the Waterloo, Ontario, Canada, Coin Society, slated for the Walper Hotel. Ed Stahley and Rod Rekofski have been named as co-chairmen.

Committee heads include Ruth Mueller, reception; Frank Uttley, display and awards; Bill English, advertising, tickets and publicity; Stahley, bourse; English, auction; Phil Mueller, donation, and Bob Smith, security.

Auction lots for the banquet session will be printed in the February news bulletin, and English has set the deadline for them to be submitted as January 25.

The Waterloo club is planning to issue a brochure listing the names of persons available for planned talks on numismatic topics. So far, the list includes Lloyd T. Smith, Byrone Swaze and Howard Whitefield, from the London, Ontario, Club, and Rod Rekofski and Bill English from Waterloo.

The brochure, being compiled by Rekofski, will contain a short synopsis of the topic, the name and address of the speaker, and the title and length of the talk. He hopes for more names from other coin clubs in the area so he can issue the brochure in January.

The following officers were elected by acclamation at the last meeting: Frank Uttley, president; Rod Rekofski, vice president; Mrs. Phil Mueller, secretary; Bruce Razman, treasurer, and Bill English, Heinz Herzog and Ed Stahley, board of directors.

Letters To . . .

any of my money returned, as he cannot be located.

My purpose in relating how I lost my money was to make the new collectors more careful with their orders and probably save them the same sad experience I had. I emphasized that it was safe to order from any reputable dealer, particularly from the dealers who are regular advertisers, and whose ads appear week after week and month after month. These names become so familiar to regular readers that they may order from these dealers with confidence, knowing they will get a fair deal.

At the conclusion of my remarks, vice-president, Mr. Vitello, agreed heartily with me and added, "It might be wise too, if you are not familiar with a particular advertiser's name, address or post office box number, to inquire of some of your collector friends or any of our officers if these persons are known to us. You might save yourself a lot of money and grief."

At this point, one of our members, whom I prefer to leave anonymous at this time, jumped to the floor and angrily said, "Well, I do quite a lot of mail order business and I use a post office box for mailing address so as to keep myself from being robbed." This member evidently misunderstood the statement made by Mr. Vitello, and an attempt was made by myself and Mr. Vitello to clarify matters. The statement was made again as it was originally made in the above paragraph and since there were no further comments or questions the matter was considered closed.

Your editorial of November 3rd, 1960, was read on the floor at the regular meeting of the Tampa Coin Club on November 10 and fully discussed. The members present thought our club and officers had been grossly and unfairly accused and much discredit had been brought upon The Tampa Coin Club by your statements. We felt that the meaning of your editorial as far as using a post office box was all right and timely in view of all the recent coin dealer robberies.

We do resent the fact, however, of belittling any officer or member of the Tampa Coin Club to put across your point. A motion was made and passed at the November 10 meeting that a letter be written to you and Coin World to express our feelings and to acquaint you with the true facts of this incident.

You state in the last paragraph of your November 3rd editorial, "and we feel that the club members in the Tampa Coin Club ought to be told the truth, and we have carried this editorial to readers all over the country in the event that other misinformed or unthinking people have made similar statements."

I, and the other officers and members of the Tampa Coin Club, feel that since we DO know the truth—that you, and all the other readers of Coin World should know the truth also. That is why I am taking so much space—to explain this completely.

Immediately following the Florida United Numismatists' convention to be held in Miami on January 12, 13, and 14, a big Florida West Coast Coin Show will be held on January 16, 17, and 18 at the Hillsboro Hotel, Tampa, Florida. The officers of the Tampa Coin Club will play a major role in producing this event, and I am advised some bourse table reservations are still available.

We invite all the collectors and dealers who attend the F.U.N. convention, and all other numismatists to plan to attend this gala affair. Maybe we officers of the Tampa Coin Club can vindicate ourselves and prove that we are not quite so misinformed as we are represented to be.

By the way, Mr. Johnson, one week after I had told our club about James R. Bartlett and his mail bid fraud, you had a picture of this individual over a caption "Coin Crook is sought by Feds in Mail Fraud". This was on page 14, of the Thursday, September 15, issue of Coin World. "Very timely", I would say.

I, and the members of the Tampa Coin Club, wish you continued success with most excellent paper, Coin World. We request that this letter be printed, in full, in your "letters to the Editor" section at your earliest opportunity. Dr. Ben T. Beacham

Burglary Reports Filed From East To West Coast

Robberies reported this week were well scattered over the country, with loss values reported from just under $5,000 retail down to $100.

Most valuable of the collections reported stolen was one appraised by its owner at $2,350 cost and $4,000 to $5,000 retail, taken from the Camera Shop in Watsonville, California.

The front door of the store had been pried open with a small bar, police said. The coins, which had been in a pile in the front window, were scooped up and apparently dropped into a cloth bag. Indications were the burglar used cotton gloves. A wooden board shielded the intruder from the view of passersby.

Don Santi, the owner, said some Greek and Roman coins were included, that he never would have sold "for love or money". He does not believe the thief can dispose of them easily.

A coin collection valued at $2,000 was taken recently from the apartment of Howard A. Ziegler, in Indiana, Pennsylvania. Police said burglars entered the building through a basement door.

Mrs. Dave Gray, Pittsburg, California, reported to police that part of a coin collection was stolen from her home. An itemized list showed $449.46 worth of items missing.

A Camden, New Jersey, youth, 17, was sent to the Annandale reformatory for an indefinite term for stealing coins from a local numismatist. He admitted the thefts, spread over four different occasions. The owner valued the coins at more than $2,000 retail.

The boy said he could not return them because he "had loaned them to other collectors for a small fee".

Walter Thibault, Leucadia, California, store owner, reported the recent theft of a coin album containing uncirculated Lincoln cents and a box of foreign coins worth $350. He told sheriff's deputies that he also lost a $300 gold ring.

On Saturday, December 3, two thugs, one with an automatic pistol, overwhelmed 68-year-old Joseph Rosenthal in his Buffalo, New York, apartment, and robbed him of $70 worth of Canadian quarters and $55 in miscellaneous old coins. They tore out the telephone during the robbery.

Rosenthal described the thugs as being about five feet eight inches tall and weighing about 160 pounds. One wore a dark suit, the other a ski cap and brown cloth jacket.

A coin collection valued at $100 was taken from the home of Guy McGee, Davenport, Iowa, after the house had been entered through a basement window.

Old silver dollars, a $2½ gold piece and some Indian cents were taken from the home of Harold E. Seitz, Red Lion, Pennsylvania, after the thieves gained entry by throwing a rock through the back door window.

A club member of The Triple Cities Coin Club, Leo Kern, owner and long time operator of Kern's Hobbies in Binghamton, New York, had an unusual experience in the field of robberies, when it was reported that a 16 year old

Louisville Show Sets Record As Club's Best

The Louisville Coin Club Fall Festival held November 19-20 in the Henry Clay Hotel in Louisville, Kentucky, was what club officials and members claim as the best show in the club's seven-year-history.

The two-day coin show had over 1400 registered attendance with an approximate attendance figure of 1600-1800. Fifteen dealer bourse tables at the show did a successful business with the dealers coming from Illinois, Ohio, Indiana, Pennsylvania and Kentucky.

Satisfaction of the dealers, according to the club president, Lt. Otha L. Walters, was attested by the dealers' desires to have reserved bourse tables at the next coin show sponsored by the Louisville Coin Club.

Membership exhibits and displays totaling $75-$100,000 were outstanding and contributed greatly to the success of the show. Two hundred feet of table space was utilized by exhibits and displays which included complete type collections, gold, currency, commemorative halves, medals, and large cent collections.

Among choice items on display were an 1896 quarter in extra fine condition owned by Charlie Logsdon, $50 gold (round) piece and many of the rare choice Confederate notes owned by Carl Dellmuth; proof sets from 1936-1960 owned by Henry Cary, crowns of the world, and a large collection of Confederate, broken bank notes, and fractional currency owned by Roy Davis.

The club was especially proud of its 48 feet of junior membership displays which won three of the six trophies for the coin show.

Six trophies were awarded with the best-in-show award going to Roy Davis for his outstanding Confederate, broken bank notes and fractional currency display.

This exhibit also won the best currency award. The best U. S.

coins exhibit went to C. John McDonald for his display of coins in plastic cases which included gold, type coins, proof sets and small cents. The best foreign exhibit and best junior exhibit was won by Jamie Davis for his map of the world coin display of foreign coins. The most unusual award was won by Ned Bass for his unique horn of plenty display of coins.

The success of this show, according to Lt. Walters, club president, was due to the membership's interest in spreading the word, club literature mailouts to over 700 collectors and the excellent publicity campaign under direction of the club publicity director, Colonel R. K. Walker.

Colonel Walker was successful in local publicity which resulted in Louisville newspaper releases both days prior to the show along with pictures and news releases appearing both days during the show. Local radio stations were very cooperative with announcements regarding the coin show.

Due to last minute changes in room allocations the club was able to give dealers from 12-25 feet of table space for their contract price of only eight feet. This, along with good business, aided immeasurably in the dealers satisfaction and future desires for participation in Louisville coin shows.

The Louisville Coin Club, which has increased its membership from 38 to 247 during this year under direction and guidance of Lt. Walters, U. S. Army recruiting officer in Kentucky, feels proud of its coin festival and extends an open invitation to all collectors to visit their regular twice monthly meetings held the first Tuesday at 8 p.m. and third Sunday at 2 p.m. in the Henry Clay hotel. Plans are already under way for its next coin show which will be held in April or May of next year.

Robberies . . .

youth hung around the store one day till he got hold of the front door key and after closing hours he returned and let himself in and stole just about all the stock of coins at the store.

The police recovered a good percentage of them in the youth's locker at Binghamton high school, where he had hid them. But some of them had been sold and quite a few proof sets, the youth said, he had torn apart and sold for face value at a bus depot in the city.

Kern said that over 40 per cent of his stock was still missing.

Although the capture of the youth was reported in a local paper, coin dealers were not notified by police agencies of the theft till The Triple Cities Coin Club reported it—but they (the dealers) checked and no one had sold them coins locally in the time lapse between the theft and capture of the youth.

In a Johnson City, New York, area robbery of a store, a suspect was apprehended and the police report said that a $1 silver coin found in the suspect's home had an "O" on it, "thus making it a collector's item".

James F. Ruddy, Johnson City coin dealer, said he has since been swamped with calls from people who have silver dollars with "O" mint marks on the back.

Miss Aufusta S. Croak, Worcester, Massachusetts, lost $12.75 in face value in old American coins, taken from a tin box that was in a cedar chest in her bedroom. Also gone was $493 in cash. She had not known of her loss until the box was found along side the road elsewhere in the city, and police notified her of its finding.

Austin Club Gets Officers

The Austin, Minnesota, Coin and Stamp Club summed up its 1960 activities with a Christmas party combined with its annual meeting at which 1961 officers were elected, held at the Sterling State bank.

The annual report of the secretary showed a total of 77 members, from Austin and seven surrounding communities.

Heading the list of new officers, only two of whom were incumbents, is Don Kenney as president, with Harvey Peters and Charles Robinson, vice presidents. Elmore Greening was re-elected secretary, while Don Hanzlicek was chosen treasurer; Mrs. Marjory Creagan, historian, and Harvey Holtz, incumbent, librarian.

The Art Of Exhibiting Cleveland URGES More Exhibits To Gain Skill

This is the second in a series of informative articles dealing with numismatic exhibits, written by Don L. Decker, Cleveland, a man who not only constantly wins prizes for his displays, but who is interested in developing the skill and pride of competition in other numismatists.

By Don L. Decker

How often have we heard someone say, "Gee, I wish I had put my coins on display. I could have won a prize easily." True, in some exhibits, even the bad entries are awarded prizes simply because there were not enough exhibits in competition.

But why didn't he put his coins on display?

Could be this person wasn't prepared or was he actually afraid he wouldn't win a prize.

Second In A Series

When we put a display into competition is the time we find out just how well our display stacks up with the rest of them. If the exhibitor is thumbed down by the judges the first time he displays, he should try a little harder the next time.

Too many exhibitors quit after the first time out, just because they didn't get a prize. It is rare indeed when an exhibitor walks off with a first or second award the first time he tries.

Nobody has ever painted a picture that everyone liked. That is simply impossible to accomplish because we are all individuals with definite likes and dislikes.

This is the same, when we exhibit our Numismatic material, whether we display paper money or ancient coins. Some displays will attract only the individual who collects the particular material in that display. That is why we must add a little artistry to our displays, to attract other viewers too.

Most of the bigger shows try to choose judges who have numismatic backgrounds. However, there isn't any individual who knows the entire numismatic field. They can only rely on the point system and their own artistic taste.

If we don't win a prize the first time, we should thank the judges.

For they have warned us that the display needs a few more flags.

There have been times when an exhibitor will win first prize at one show, only to come out second or third against the same opposition in another. Here a change of judges might be the cause.

The location of the display in the exhibit room or the different arrangement of lighting might have affected the decision. We could even put the blame on the exhibit chairman for not marking the cases properly or not briefing the judges on the proper point system.

Take a look at the Coin World calendar listing conventions, shows and exhibits. Perhaps there is a show coming up in your locality. Why not exhibit some of your collection and be part of the show? Most of these shows have exhibit competition and you'll find they have cases to furnish you providing you reserve them ahead of time.

All these cases have locks. Your material is insured and under 24 hour guard for the duration of the exhibit. Once you have put your display in the cases, they are locked and the keys turned over to security until the show is over.

Donald E. Vargo won first prize for his collection of Civil War coins and currency at a recent exhibit of the Clifton Center Coin Club, Clifton, New Jersey. The club meets each Monday from 6:30 to 9 p. m. at the Clifton Boys' Club, 306 Clifton Avenue, in the New Jersey city.

A lot of things that have been written in these columns might sound like old stuff to the veteran exhibitor. However, we must remember that we need more displays and more competition. Only then can we say our awards are earned and not handed to us on a silver platter.

Next, The Display Case

Father-To-Be Utilizes Wait Numismatically

William J. Comby, of Conover, North Carolina, had the advantage over President-Elect John Kennedy.

He had some time to do some numismatic thinking in the waiting room of the hospital as he eagerly anticipated the birth of his fourth child.

President Kennedy, flying through the night to his wife's side, learned of his son's arrival while he was still in the air, and it's doubtful if he turned any thought to commemorative coins.

But collector Comby, who terms himself "relatively new," used his waiting time to discuss roll collecting from a self-termed "amateur" standpoint.

These are the thoughts collector Comby wrote in the hospital:

By William J. Comby

In regard to roll collecting versus individual coin collecting—like everybody else I am getting a little tired of hearing arguments on this subject either pro or con.

Each issue has a letter or article on the subject and here I am adding one more to the already too plentiful number. I don't collect rolls myself but if others want to do it, it's all right with me.

In fact, if everybody would turn to roll collecting, perhaps I could pick up a few of those needed circulated singles for cents instead of dollars. There are many expressions such as "To each his own" or "Live and let live" etc.

An old Indian was supposed to have said that if everybody felt the same as he, they would all want his squaw.

An idea such as this could be carried to extremes. What a monotonous world this would be if all individuals drove the same style automobile, wore the same clothes, on and on.

I read somewhere, possibly in this paper, that if everybody leaned in the same direction, they'd pull the world off balance.

I do think it would be nice if the roll collectors would allow a few rolls to get into circulation so the rest of us could find a current minted coin without paying a premium for it.

I'm still needing a lot of key dates and some of my others aren't much to look at, but I'm more proud of those I found in circulation than any I bought or traded for. The best sets usually indicate that the particular collector has more money than another one. You can get any condition set, with a few exceptions, depending on how much you are willing to pay for it.

This is only an opinion but I feel certain that those rare individuals who have completed their sets entirely from "finds" are more pleased than another individual with a BU set that they bought. More than enough said on that subject.

Small dates and large dates—I'll concede that these are two different varieties and should be in every set but I'll be glad when the craze is over. It was about to die down on the cents and dimes and now the nickels will fill the pages for a few months.

It is getting so I can't even look at 1960 on a newspaper or on a page I've typed without looking at it to see if it is a small or large date; 1961 can't get here too soon to suit me.

Proof sets sealed and unsealed. This is another worn out argument. Proof sets are a new field to me but I certainly can't see leaving them sealed. These are about the prettiest coins minted in the U.S. today and anybody who doesn't want to admire these once in a while should stick to rolls.

I hope that the small date craze brought an end to this idea if it accomplished nothing else. I just cannot imagine being married to a Miss America without ever wanting to look at her or show her off.

Coin grading, especially Buffalo nickels. Perhaps this question should be addressed to Misters Brown and Dunn of my home state, Oklahoma. I do quite a bit of trading, by mail and otherwise, and it seems to me a lot of collectors, amateurs like me, have misinterpreted the standards for Buffalo nickels.

They look at the reverse and if there is 2/3 horn it is "fine" with no consideration for the obverse. I think a clarification is necessary from somebody. I consider the standards for good "date and all legends must be readable" to mean the full date and not just the last two numerals.

I have received coins graded very good, fine and even very fine with a date that is hardly readable. I realize it isn't necessary to keep these coins and in some cases I don't but it usually leads to hard feelings on the part of the other fellow who probably received them from someone else with that grade.

In addition to Buffalos, I wish Brown and Dunn had a simpler method of grading such coins as Jefferson nickels and Roosevelt dimes. Maybe the experts don't have any trouble with these but I surely do.

The "Red Book" or more officially "A Guide Book of United States Coins". It is very necessary to have a reference book and the Red Book is a good one and to be able to put all that information in a small book at the price is quite a feat. Since the majority of collectors use this book as a guide, I am compelled to do so myself.

As mentioned above, I do quite a bit of trading and therefore prefer the "American Standard Book of All U. S. Coins" by R. A. Wilson, Sr. This lists eight to nine different grades for most coins and certainly makes it easier to decide a "book value" for the intermediate grades when making trades.

Needless to say, it also comes in quite handy when figuring out a buying or selling price. Besides being a novice at collecting, I am also a poor mathematician but it looks as if a formula could be derived to figure out the "book value" of other grades in the Red Book.

In case I'm not making myself clear, take an example: a 1902-S Barber dime lists at $3.50 in very good condition. Suppose I have this coin to trade in only good condition, how do I figure its value? The "American Standard" lists this in good at $2.65 but I doubt if a guess on my part would have been very close to that amount.

Well, this has been a long wait and I know I have rambled enough. The wait has been well worth it, though, as my wife has presented me a new baby girl to add to the two girls and one boy already in the clan.

Club Studies Cent

Discussion of the cent, from the old large cent through the Lincoln type, comprised the program for a recent meeting of the Pierre, South Dakota, Coin Club. The group meets in the Community room of the Pierre National Bank.

FOREIGN GOLD 101

MEXICO

Neil Sez: This still remains a land of mystery and enchantment. Although the 8 reales have been eagerly sought for decades, mints, and assayers or mint master's initials-Mexico still remains almost untouched numismatically.

Not many countries have gone thru such government and coinage changes. Right today there are many mysteries. A few examples: A 1943 $1 will buy a $1's worth of goods in a store, but take that $1 to a bank and they will give you 3 1959-60 $1's which will buy $1 at the store. Or take a $5 1955 Gold to the bank and they will give you $57.50 in 1959-60 $1's. (A clue: Peso means weight and a 1943 Peso is .720 Silver, a 1955 Gold piece is .900 Gold, while 1959-60 is Billion).

If you are still confused I suggest you write for my 1961 newsletters and price lists. Free for asking or send a 4c stamp and get the lists plus an uncirculated Mexican coin. (Tip: these lists will represent a complete catalog of all Mexican coins and mints, but not illustrated).

Mexico could be called the land of Silver. Their mines have been the envy of the world. The town of Taxco is world known for its silver products. Many persons travel, buying up old silver coins for their bullion content and into the melting pot they go. Lost forever to future numismatists - much the same as our early U. S. Pioneer Gold.

Recently I salvaged a quantity of the 1919-45 .720 20c-50c-$1 (many BU) and these will be sorted and offered later. A little later I found some more BU 1948 5 Peso Cuauhtemoc's which contain 30 grams of .900 Silver and one of the world's prettiest crowns. My previous ads passed on 400 to Coin World readers. To date not a coin returned for grading! I still can offer: Yoeman's cat. $2.50.

Almost Everyone Prefers America's First Family of Coin Albums

THE LIBRARY OF COINS

By Any Standard, Still The Best!

Complete visibility and complete protection, the two most-wanted features of a coin album, are presented for the first time by THE LIBRARY OF COINS. Bound like books, handsome and compact, each Library of Coins volume displays and protects its coins between two sliding panels of clear, tough plastic. Each coin "porthole" has printed next to it full data on mint mark and quantity minted. Each volume contains a brief background story on the coins, giving both the novice and advanced collector helpful information, including a listing of the rare dates.

Measuring 8¼" x 6¼", the volumes are low priced, sturdily manufactured, and permanently bound in a variety of identifying colors for the various denominations. Their compact size permits the storing of a large coin collection in very small space. Backbones are clearly gold stamped so that they are as readily identifiable as are books.

The Library of Coins represents the first major innovation in high grade coin albums in more than 30 years, and was several years in development. Designed by numismatists, the Library of Coins is designed to satisfy the needs and desires of numismatists. Write for descriptive circular on the Library of Coins.
